

DESIGN NEWS

Sotheby's Unveils Third Annual Designer Showhouse Renderings For At Home Exhibition

Apr 04, 2016 05:47 PM EDT

By Meg Busacca

(Courtesy of Sotheby's - Richard Rabel Interiors + Art)

Auto Play

Start

PRINT THIS

TEXT + -

SHARE THIS

f SHARE

t TWEET

RELATED

Home Decor Online Shopping Guide: 10 Coolest Websites, The Future Perfect, The Line, Leifshop And More

5 Must-See New York Art Exhibitions At Cooper-Hewitt, Noguchi Museum, The Jewish Museum And MoMA

On Friday, April 9, Sotheby's will transform its fifth floor exhibition space for the company's third annual Designer Showhouse, At Home.

The Designer Showhouse and Auction is a special addition to the Spring 2016 Decorative Arts Week. At Home will feature 12 rooms executed by 12 highly sought-after interior design firms that will demonstrate their individual aesthetic using art, decor and furniture from the Sotheby's departments.

Each of the designers will be given the opportunity to curate an interior that illustrates their style and their approach on combining traditional styles with contemporary design elements to represent luxury living today.

This year's participating designers include Bradley Bayou, BHDM Design, Fawn Galli, Patrick Mele, Shelley Morris, Sandra Nunnerley, Robert Passal, Christi Rogers, Scott Sanders, Bunny Williams, Jenny Wolf and Richard Rabel.

Scroll through the slide show to preview the designers' renderings and get a sneak peak of what to expect at the 2016 Designer Showhouse and Auction, At Home.

And in case you missed last year's, you can see it here.

FOLLOW: sothebys, Interior Designer, interiors, design